SUBSTITUTE FOR FLUTE LEAVES 50,000 DEAD

WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—(CP)—The Pied Piper of Hamelin was pretty hot stuff with his flute. But 12 inspectors from Winnipeg's health department armed with anti-rabies poison didn't badly either. The city's nuisance grounds are being treated at average last week.

Given the business were 50,000 snarling grey rats.

The rodents were spoon-fed, but tablespoons of poison, spread over a radius of 175,000 square feet, meant death to thousands of the swarming hordes at the city's nuisance grounds.

The killers wielded their spoons for eight hours and used 1,300 pounds of poison.

BISHOP DOESN'T MIND A BET BUT IT HURTS NATION

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(CP)—Rev. Frank Bishop, vicar of St. Giles, Canterbury, says it is "no more reprehensible to have a shilling on a horse than to spend a shilling on beer or ice cream."

But he is worried about the increased turnover, which he estimated at about £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) last year—of the bookmakers, the racing totals and the football pools.

"So much gambling is handicapping the nation's recovery," he told parishioners.

The cabinet faced one test on its request for a law limiting the number of police to strike. Debatable tonight in the assembly.

It faced a second threat on the premier's financial program, which includes opposition to general wage increases and the imposition of 50,000,000,000 francs (about $100,000,000) more in taxes. The last two previous governments lost on similar financial programs.

Viola, a composed figure in an old-fashioned cotton dress reaching to her cotton-hooped ankles, told the "LED TO GO ON."

"I was led to go on—I didn't know where," she said. She held her Bible to her body with both hands.

Both were "Praising the Lord" as they walked along in the dark, eventually coming to the river.

At the water, Violet said, "Faith is the victory."

"Then," Viola recounted, "Violet walked into the water until it pretty well covered her head."

There was no outcry, no struggle. Violet could not swim. She just disappeared in about six feet of water.

There was a boat nearby, and the sister said she made a step to go into it to help her.

"But I was pushed back by the spirit," she said.

"Violet" she told the jury, "was led by the Holy Spirit."

French Gov't Facing Stiff Test on Strikes

While Premier Henri Queuille's cabinet wrestled with emergency financial measures, a wave of strikes, many of them Communist, spread through the country. On the right, followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle pushed a campaign for national elections.

The cabinet faced one test on its request for a law limiting the number of police to strike. Debatable tonight in the assembly.

It faced a second threat on the premier's financial program, which includes opposition to general wage increases and the imposition of 50,000,000,000 francs (about $100,000,000) more in taxes. The last two previous governments lost on similar financial programs.

Poor Treatment for Edmonton

It is utterly ridiculous that the chief city of Alberta should remain at the back door of Canada's transcontinental air service.

Edmonton is one of the great flying centres of the world. It is the southern terminus of all the lines that feed into the North. It is the heart of the largest business area in the province.

It is the industrial centre of Alberta and the capital city of Alberta and the centre of the greatest development of natural resources.

It is the largest city between Winnipeg and Vancouver. And yet Edmonton and its busy affairs have to depend upon a shuttle service for connection with the main line of Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Aviation competes with rail travel only by virtue of its ability to save time for the traveler. But how can aviation compete with rail travel in regard to Edmonton's business when the shuttle service to Lethbridge sometimes compels passengers to lay over for 24 hours or more in the latter city while the train is sure to get an Edmonton traveler to the Pacific Coast in 24 hours?

It Was Time to Tighten Up

The regulations governing income tax exemptions on charitable donations have been considerably restricted and most people will agree that the tightening up process is timely.

The rules with regard to donations towards the relief of poverty and the advancement of religion and education remain unchanged, as they should be. However, it is assumed that the clause requiring such donations to be made through a recognized agency will be more strictly enforced than in the past.

The most important changes in the rules have to do with deductions claimed for contributions that do not clearly benefit the whole community.

By failing to put Edmonton on the transcontinental route, the Trans-Canada Air Lines are simply throwing Edmonton business out the window.

Edmonton has one of the best-equipped airports on the continent. It has facilities for all major and minor repairs to aircraft.

There is nothing on earth, then, to prevent the inclusion of this city on the main line route except the specious argument that such inclusion might add one hour to transcontinental flying time.

That hour could easily be made up, if anyone worries too much about it, by pushing up the speed of mainline planes which already have a much greater margin of time than this.

For the sake of holding Edmonton business, as a courtesy to the largest and most important city in the province and as a contribution to the development of the North, Trans-Canada Air Lines should re-route its transcontinental course to include Edmonton.

Every organization in the city, private, public and semi-public should get behind the protest against initiation by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

The old and more liberal regulations were necessary in wartime when the majority of drives for funds were directed towards the war effort. But since the war a good deal of income tax revenue has been diverted, through these generous deductions, to purposes which by no stretch of the imagination could be considered of value to the whole community, but only to a special group of it.

The value of the new and more restricted regulations, in the view of the average taxpayer, lies in the assumption that the more carefully these leaks in income tax revenue are plugged up the sooner will general reductions be made.

It seems to be a reasonable hope.

Communism Wants No Peace

The Soviet kidnapping of German police in Berlin was a clear attempt to divert the conversations of the four military governors in the German capital.

For while the Russians are participating in these talks that are designed to mitigate the crisis in Berlin, it is plainly evident that it is not the Communist purpose or policy to heal any breaches but rather to maintain the conflict as far and as long as possible.

State Secretary Marshall of the United States has stated this fact forthrightly.

It is his view and the view of all who know the Communist doctrine that the Reds do not want peace. They have no intention of seeking peace.

Part of the fundamental strategy of Communism's world revolution is to create disorder and despair. Communism thrives on disorder. It has never made and can never make the slightest progress through peaceful methods.

That is why the Cominform is stirring up dissension in Yugoslavia. That is why it has announced a new drive against "all bourgeois and capitalist" in Poland—although it could be difficult to find many capitalists among the 15,000,000 near-desperate peasants of that country.

The Communist way is the way of continual turmoil and strife. Its method is the calculated ordering of disorder.

Current Quotation On Bonde Market, $7,000

Nothing makes me quite so glibly as the fact that all those shabby little bondholders who have taken to advertising themselves for sale at prices ranging from $3,000 to $5,000.

The current quotation on the bond market, I note, is $7,000. And it is fixed in regard to a 19-year-old exhibitor in Detroit who calls herself Gracie Martin, whose father has written to papers in Wyoming, Utah and Montana to let the world know that she will walk down the aisle with any feather-brained fellow who can put up the required sum in cash.

I don't know why the old man chaps Wyoming, Utah and Montana except the lady in those states is accustomed to buying animals on the hoof and the population will not make as such a shock to her.

WEIR But it is a shock to me every time I see one of these lurid accounts of marital discord because I was brought up to believe that marriage was a rather lovely gift and not a transaction at the cash register.

It is a shock to me, too, to find that the Wyoming, Utah and Montana papers printed this wild procreation I was also brought up in the journalistic tradition that newspapers do not accept immoral advertising and certainly do not give it away for free.

Everybody

Loses

From the moral aspects of this matrimonial auction the practical side of it is revolting, too. I mean it is revolting because it is so unrespectably stupid.

What except the host after host with a passion for cheap publicity, who want a wife who offered herself for sale?

For if you buy yourself a modest little helpmate for $7,000, you can only expect that she will run off with the first fellow who comes along with $8,000.

Once for sale, always for sale. And what does the woman get? A comfortable life? No, she has to realize that you are the purchased property of some nobody who has acquired you on the same basis as the prize swine in his barn.

It must be nice to know that you are the chattel of some soul who did you out of view of marriage is a contract consummated over a counter.

But must be pleasant to understand that you were married and divorced your wife, were hit and your hair was like and all the because you were worth the sun and the moon and all the stars and because your value was fixed exactly in terms of seven thousand and seventy dollar bills.

It is one of those incredibly sordid deals in which everybody loses.

Priceless

Ingredient

This, God forbid, does not purport to be a dissertation on love. It is merely to me that when the essential content of marriage is reduced to a mere transaction it is priceless ingredient.

And that priceless ingredient is affection. And that priceless ingredient is affection. And that priceless ingredient is affection.

But it must be there some- where in every marriage or there is no marriage at all.

Marriage is composed chiefly of something that cannot be bought.

When two people live together without that fragrant there is only one name for their relationship.

Unhappy

Progeny

Many nations with a deep concern for a falling birth rate have tried to promote the incidence of marriage with artificial devices, mostly economic in nature.

Hitter paid subsidies for early marriages and large families, and so planned an assault on the Japanese demagogue.

In this connection, two contrasting pictures crowd into my mind.

I see the progeny of the blonde German girl who married a Jewish schoolboy that their mother bought for $7,000.

And I hear the words of that English writer in the proudest hour ever heard on human lips: "Which are the sons of English brides who married Englishmen for love?"

The greatest task facing the world of light before the dawn of the great masses of the Soviet people.

He suggests that U.S. planes should fly over Russia dropping millions of leaflets to the Soviet people.

It seems to me the first faint glimmer of light before the dawn of the great masses of the Soviet people.

According to Art Irwin, editor of Maclean's Magazine, the only argument within the ranks of the U.S. military brass hats in Europe is whether the Red Army would reach the point of no return on the northern mountainous border of Spain.

Peace Plan

Such a war would quickly settle down into an eagle-and-vulture.

Either to prevent a war—or to prevent a very close approach of the precipice of disaster I recommend reading "If War Comes." It is a book that is a political plan which people of the world should read.

There is only one road to the world, and that is to be a world, like a democracy elected international parliament.

Even now, we must still avert that world war by laying down the law to the "parliament of mankind."

The Red Army would quickly overrun all of Western Europe.

Army Week to Show New Radio Wrinkles

Residents of Edmonton and Northern Alberta will have an opportunity to see a division of the great signal system which maintains communications throughout the northland in action next week.

During Army Week, Sept. 19 to 25 inclusive, thousands of dollars worth of the latest-type transmitters, receivers and other communications equipment will be on display at the Prince of Wales Armoury.

The equipment will be demonstrated in special order by the army and receiving messages from far northern points.

It will be demonstrated in the booth of the 18th Infantry Brigade Signal Troop, reserve force, and Western Command signals regiment of the active force.

One of the main items to be shown in use is the radio-teletype-transmitter-receiver.

This machine is similar to those used in parts of the army's trans-Canada circuit to relay messages without the use of linking wires. Instead of telephone lines, the messages are passed on radio waves in special codes.

DIZZY DEAN'S TALES IRK HAPPY CHANDLER

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean, one of baseball's finest pitchers and now a radio broadcaster of the sport, was called before Commissioner A. B. Chandler Wednesday. Neither would say much on what took place.

Dean has been broadcasting home games of the St. Louis Browns this year. He also has another program in which he tells stories, jokes and great plays and behind-the-scenes stuff on the players of today and yesterday.

The feeling in Cincinnati is that some of Dean's stories might have irked the baseball commissioner, and Dean was asked to soften his punch lines.

Flyers to Shake Out Kinks Sunday A.M.

By JIM MCCURDY

Don't be surprised if you see a young man trotting along your street these days. It's probably just one of the Allan Cup champion Edmonton Flyers getting ready for Sunday morning's opening of training for the 1948-49 Western Canada Senior Hockey League season.

Captain Frank Currie plans to use what is left of his championship team after the professional league has cut it up as the nucleus of this season's club.

A report from the St. Hyacinthe training camp of the Montreal Canadiens that quoted Coach Dick Irvin of the Canadiens as saying: "Duke Keats and Bernie MacPherson will catch a berth with his club draw lip service from Currie."

Edmonton's leader wanted to know how Irvin could pass judgment on the pair without seeing them in action. It seems he would be big leaguers still work on the train when Irvin made his state-ment.

Currie hopes they will be back, MacPherson also along just for the experience and instruction that can be gained in big league camp.

Goal worrier started when Allan Hollos went over to be solved with the acquisition of Keith Wood, last year with Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Hockey Association.

Set at defence are Captain Gordon Watt, Doug Lane and Bill Pettigrew while the most "retiring" man in hockey, Harvey (Pug) Young, is expected to sign shortly. If and when MacPherson returns, that gives the team five regulars.

Three centres, numerous Hockey Rimstad, league-leading scorer last season, and Elmer Kivler, along with Bernie Hahagaz, starting of Vancouver's Pacific Coast league champions, will be in camp. Wingmen are Andy Andy Clowch, Alex Pringle, Freddy Smith, and Bill Maher from last year's regulars.

Johnny Birt definitely won't be back as he has signed a con-

Letters to the Editor

A Blast At Opinion Bulletin

Sports Editor, Bulletin.—I read with great interest your column blasting the "Opinion" system. Good stuff, all of it! And I also read the letter col. "Longtime Hockey Fan" who has an option on two seats and who acts the good father and takes his son to see the games. It's a fine thing to see a father and son attending hockey games. There should be more of it. As a matter of fact I would like to take my son to the games. It would make me a better father to him.

But it is not to be. I must confess to a very grave error. Some few years back I joined the Royal Canadian Air Force. That was my big mistake. When I returned to Edmonton I had high hopes of settling down again and seeing some good hockey games. I had been attending games at the Arena since the days of Duke Keats and But no. I found some new system installed whereby I am not allowed any freedom in attending games. I am like a poor country cousin who stands off to one side and takes what scraps are thrown his way. Yes, I can go out to the arena and hang around in the cold waiting for my chance at a ticket left by someone who thought it a little too cold to venture out that night.

"Longtime Hockey Fan" does not think he is particularly favored. May I be shot down in flames if he isn't?

Another angle of it all has been worrying me. Suppose the Flyers had a bad season (I'm almost at the point where I hope so) and went into the red financially and the Exhibition Association didn't have the money to cover the loss. I suppose the next step would be for the city council to fork over the required crinkly stuff. Having dutifully paid my taxes, it wasn't seem that I am one of the eventful backers of the team, and yet I can't see the team play. But, the reasoning goes, if the team is losing money then lots of options will be available. Fine. I can see the team play only if it is a sports and financial flop.

"LONGTIME HOCKEY FAN TOO."

Holder Suggests Split System

Sports Editor, Bulletin.—In your editorial in Monday's Bulletin you stressed the importance of the change in the option system as it is being operated at present.

It is evident that the existing system is most unfair to those ardent fans the outside, and yet you cannot close the door in the faces of those just as ardent fans who are now on the inside. There-

Gus Lesnevich Ends Workouts

SOUTH FALLSBURG, N.Y., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Gus Lesnevich boxed four rounds Wednesday in his final workout at his training camp here. He will finish conditioning near his Cliffside Park, N.J., home for his Sept. 21 fight with Jersey Joe Walcott. After the workout Lesnevich weighed 180 pounds, more than he plans to scale at the official weigh-in.

Gold Is Where You Find It...

BRANDON, Sept. 16.—Gold, as the saying goes, is where you find it. Around Brandon, a city which we made personal discovery of for the first time Wednesday afternoon, the yellow metal is found right in the wheat fields that encircle this Manitoba centre.

Here they have their Wheat Kings, in this case a junior hockey team. Season before last the Kings laid one of the biggest eggs in the history of the Memorial Cup by going under to Moose Jaw. The supposedly powerful Brandon squad looked like a lead pipe cinch to pack up all the marbles, at least in the west.

Apparently Ken Doraty and his Canucks of the Saskatchewan milling centre forgot to take all this drum beating about the Wheat Kings very seriously. In any event the Manitobans were summarily shunted out of the picture.

Around here they still wonder what went wrong. And the fact that Canucks in turn were carved up by Toronto St. Mike's in a wild and woolly east-west final failed to ease the pain.

Last season Brandon fans settled for a team that made no pretense of going anywhere. However it proved a good boxing bet, so much so that the Wheat Kings have money in the bank.

One of these seasons, again, they'll be heard from.

Early to Bed and Early to Rise or—

In the meantime hockey interest quickened here Wednesday with arrival of the advance guards of the Cleveland, Minneapolis and San Francisco pack squads, bent on a conditioning campaign to last several weeks.

Lyle Wright's Minneapolis Millers, coached by the all time right winger Bill Cook, actually sponsor the junior Wheat Kings.

The Cleveland and San Francisco clubs are tied in with the Millers by working agreements.

Bill Cook arrived with the advance guard, as did brother Bun Cook, Cleveland coach. Last season the Ohioans had American Hockey League statisticians tearing up all the old records while going 30 straight games without a setback.

From January 1 on the Barons lost but twice in 37 starts as they swept to the league championship. Need it be said that one Bun Cook is regarded with considerable respect by his Cleveland teammates.

Opening workout will be staged Thursday. First squad hits the freeze at 8:00 a.m. Gone, seemingly, are the days when life moved freely and easily in hockey training camps.

It's early to bed and early to rise or—you never get to meet any of the regulars.

Of Life and Limb...

They had a public skating session in the rink Wednesday night. It marked the earliest rink opening in the history of this city of 22,000. Mostly the turnout consisted of kids anywhere from eight and nine years of age and up.

After a half hour or so the whole thing was called off. So great was the response that rink officials were a little apprehensive of what might happen to their equipment if the young enthusiasts worked clear through to the pipes.

Few of the hockey hopefuls dared risk life and limb in the swirling muck. As Rolfe Morrisseau put it: "I wouldn't go on that ice for 'Ten Bucks'."

Of course there may be a good reason why Morrisseau could so easily pass up a sawbuck if it was there to be earned in this way. The native of Granby, Que., was badly burned season before last in that railway accident which saw a speeding train, carrying the Brandon train, crash into a gasoline truck near Fresno, Calif.

Out of hockey last year as a result, Morrisseau recently had some good news in the form of a $38,000 settlement. Now he's back for another whirl.

But is it any wonder a 10-spot is just another 10-spot where he's concerned?

Belated Aouette Drive Falls Short

HAMILTON, Sept. 16.—(CP)—Hamilton Wildcats survived a last-quarter rally last night to defeat Montreal Aouettes 13-12 in a Big Four football game. The result leaves the teams tied for third place, each with one victory.

Hawkey Sticks Out Over Big 4 Hurlers

Season's Statistics Released No Word From Big League Stars

Baseball had its last fling in Edmonton with the coming Thursday of the official Big Four league batting, fielding and pitching statistics from the office of loopy pro Henry Roche.

About the only think that could get even the keenest of fans away from those cozy fireplaces these chilly nights would be if the touring National League All-Stars added Edmonton to their stop-over list.

Richie Ashburn, Kewell Blackwell, Eddie Sauer et al are expected to show in Lethbridge sometime in October. John D. Harkness, bow-man, hasn't a word regarding our chances. If the big leaguers can be lured north, John will certainly do it.

Two Edmonton hurlers—Morrie Hawkey of Cubs, and Eskimes' Clarence Melbye, stuck out like a couple of shoeshorn tips in the figure released by statisticians. Morrie Hawkey, the pharmacist, topped all hurlers in the earned-run average column with a lowly score of 1.76. Melbye, the Oregon schoolmaster, was right on his nail with an average of 2.00 against Eskimos' Jerry Seaman walked off with top honors in the win and loss department. His was a win 12, lost two marks.

Billy Price, Esk second-sacker, smoked the ball at a lofty .251 clip over the season to pace the Mortimers with the stick. Doug Stevenson, Cat catcher what-have-you, topped Mortimers hitmen with a .210 average.

Ultra-Modern Facilities Make New University Clinic a Dentist's Paradise

PREPARING FOR the day's work at the brand new University of Alberta dental clinic in student-dentist John Hoesborough, as he lays out shiny instruments and other dental paraphernalia. The campus clinic includes 48 cubicles in which 48 students can work on patients simultaneously. Each cubicle is a complete dentist's office with all the latest in equipment.

SPECIALY-PLANNED miniature amphitheatre is another part of the clinic which occupies an entire floor of the recently-completed $500,000 east wing of the Varsity medical building. Used in teaching students, the amphitheatre is a semicircle of tiered seats which face right into the centre of the room. Thus they can see every move of the demonstrating professor on the floor below. Above group of young men and women are watching Dr. William Orobio, assistant professor.

COUNTING BACTERIA under a microscope is Miss Mary Louise Knoll, bacteriology laboratory technician. Using samples of saliva from mouths of patients, Miss Knoll determines to what extent tooth decay producing bacteria are present in the mouth. Cutting down the activity of bacteria cuts down the amount of tooth decay. Less sugar (candy, confectionery) in the diet helps.

New Varsity Dental Clinic Has Latest in Equipment

By Dick Sheridan

Not only to repair the cavities in your teeth, but to keep you from getting those cavities—that's the purpose of the new dental clinic at the University of Alberta.

Result of three years' planning, the new Varsity clinic is housed in the recently-finished $500,000 east wing of the medical building on the campus.

Including the most modern dental equipment available, the clinic has facilities for 48 Varsity dental students to work on patients at one time.

The old clinic had room for about 20 students at one time.

NEW EQUIPMENT
To give students the maximum facilities, $80,000 in new dental equipment has been installed. Everything from big X-ray machines to a photography department is available for giving Varsity dental students all possible experience and to give patients visiting the clinic the very latest in treatment. Included in this latest treatment is a program to assist patients in cutting down caries. "Caries" is the common dental term for ordinary tooth decay.

At present, bacteriology laboratory technician Mary Louise Knoll is working on prevention of caries. Miss Knoll recently returned from taking a special four-month course at the University of Michigan, one of the centers of this type of work.

CLINIC ROUTINE
Here's the how and why of what Miss Knoll will be doing with many of the patients who visit the Varsity clinic.

Certain bacteria in a person's mouth cause tooth decay. Miss Knoll will take samples of saliva from a patient's mouth and from that saliva grow bacteria under controlled conditions. By means of microscopic examination, she will determine the extent to which the bacteria are present in the patient's mouth. Treatment is official, present, including fluorine.

SATURDAY CEREMONY
Saturday night, the opening ceremony will be broadcast over CMA direct from the clinic, with the students present, including Miss Knoll.

THIS TIME HE GOES BY PLANE

Trail of '98 Will Live Again for Old Mountie

By DON FLACH

"Trail of '98," where none he served as an inspector of the old North West Mounted Police, is to come alive again for Lt. Col. F. L. Cartwright.

Reminiscing about the past in the Macdonald hotel yesterday, Col. Cartwright said he joined the force in 1907 as an inspector and was sent to the Yukon in 1908 to help establish Canada's law.

Col. Cartwright is the gold-trail "people."

Chief of their tasks, he said, was collecting customs duties from the Yukon, and to see that the Yukon was law-abiding.

With the outbreak of the first World War, he left the force to join the Lord Strathcona, Horse regiment under Sir Sam Steele, on his return from South Africa, he served with the police force in Calgary and Prince Albert until 1904.

He rejoined the Lord Strathcona Horse regiment in 1910 and served with them until 1920 when he retired to his home near Chetopa, Saskatchewan.

Col. Cartwright arrived in Canada for his current holiday trip about a month ago and plans to return to England in November.

Are you beginning to wonder how your sultan is going to look with fall clothes; whether they will be becoming to you as to Actress Jean?

WHY GROW OLD

Complexion Needs Care After Summer's Sun

By Josephine Lovman

No doubt about it! That sultan looked awfully pretty this summer in your whites and pastels, but as the time approaches for fall and winter clothes, you may wish to change your color. When you wear darker shades and as your sultan begins to fade, you may find yourself looking sallow rather than vital. This is especially true of the woman past earliest youth.

Your skin has also taken a beating in spite of protective lotions and creams because of longer hours in the sun. The skin is somewhat drier after summer activities. Today I am outlining a treatment which you can give yourself at home as a complexion pick-up.

Free bleaching you can use lemon juice on your arm and elbows. This may be irritating to a sensitive face and somewhat drying, too. Therefore, if your skin is dry but you wish to do some face bleaching, try an all-milk metal mask.

Take a cup of almond meal and add enough powder to make a fairly thick paste. Add rose water until the mixture is creamy. Spread over the face and neck. Leave it on until it dries. Do not laugh or grimace during the drying process. Wash the mask on as long as convenient after drying and then wash it off with warm water.

Follow by dashing cold water over the face and neck or by patting with ice cubes covered with a soft cotton cloth. You should always cleanse your face carefully before using any mask.

For dryness, give your face and neck an extra portion of an oil cream and try to find an opportunity during the day to re-apply it. Many women dislike sleeping with greasy faces and greasy hair. You might do this for a week or two while reconditioning yourself.

Our improved pattern—visual with easy-to-use charts and photos, and complete directions—makes needlework easy.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Widow Must Be Careful About Marrying Again

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a widow of 42, with a good established business which brings me in a fine income. A poor but ambitious man wishes to marry me, and if I took him into my business we would be able to get along nicely.

But he does not like my children and does not get along with them and if I married him I probably would have to send them away to school.

Please advise me as to what I should do. WOULD YOU ANSWER: I would advise you strongly against making this marriage, because it surely would bring great unhappiness to all concerned. Almost surely it would end in divorce and the alienation of your children from you, and the general

Large Size Napkins Save Laundry Bills

By Penny Wise

VANCOUVER, B.C.—They say that everything comes to him who waits, and goodness knows I've been waiting years for a paper table napkin large enough to offer a male dinner guest. And now they're here—or at least they will be next week, and you may take exactly one guess as to who is going to be the first to buy a box. That's right: yours truly, and no one else. It'll cost me only 20 cents for 40 of them, too, and believe me I doubt very much if I'll ever wash another linen serviette as long as I live. How about you? I hope they get to Edmonton soonest.

With natural sponge being as expensive as they are, there is no doubt that you'll all start buying the B.C.-made cellulose ones as soon as they hit the market. They not only cost less than half as much, but they can be boiled when they get dirty and turn up again sweet and fresh as the day they were made.

A nice size for a girl in a bath costs 35 cents, and the very largest of three all, which is perfect for a man washing a car, is $1.70. Cellulose, I'll have you know, is made from the pulp of B.C. wood, which is something we have plenty of out on this Pacific slope.

If you wear Midnight Waltz stockings this Fall you won't be left on the sidewalks with the wallflowers, but will be right in there around your head off. Well, your feet, then.

When you make long-distance telephone calls, put your machine into use to tell you when the three minutes are up. You can get plenty of material that way, because other words you might ramble on for $10 worth, I said—you might!

Tomato ketchup (catup, if you will) is back with us again, the very best variety selling for around two bits. New pack tomato soup is with us too, and its one of the cheapest soups in line, costing around 11 or 12 cents.

You might lay in a few tins of canned potato chips, particularly the shattering ones which sell for around 17 cents and are handy as support to have around when people pop in for a quick visit and maybe a long leer.

There's a gay daffodil yellow color appearing on the scene now in kitchen utensils—pancake turners, heating spoons, can openers, ketchup forks—all stainless steel which means no extra scrubbing to take off rust and things like that.

With all the mud that you people are alleged to get in and around your shoes at certain times of the year, I'll bet you could do with a pair of mudguards that cost 29 cents, slip over the heel of your shoe and save you no end of splatters on your stockings.

Mind you, that's only for the time of the year when you're not wearing those high, fur-lined boots that you have to wear in spite of cold and snow. But out here where we go in for rubbers in a big way, they're the clear McCoy.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Does Not Fear Noise He Makes

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Here is a mother who admits that she was on the way to being the type of disciplinarian who would insist that her child ate whatever she wanted him to, whether he liked it or not.

"Your articles," writes Mrs. R. E. H., "plus the advice of my doctor, who confirmed them, changed my mind before I had done the child any lasting harm. My 18-month-old baby now eats everything offered to him, voluntarily, after four months of declining whether he wanted or not."

"His problem is his fear of loud noises. Any woman's sudden laughter, the squeals of his baby cot, the talking of a troupe of people, will cause a storm."

"I feel it would be cruel to subject him to such noises, in order that he should get over his fear. My husband and I are rather low-voiced, though I sing a great deal at my work. If I made irritatingly loud sounds would it help? We enjoy attending baseball games to which he could be taken if it were possible."

All babies are born with a fear of loud sounds, though this fear may vary with some babies longer than others. Nervousness of hearing might be a factor.

Compared with this fear of loud fear of strange persons which comes in at 12 months. It is possible that these two fears have some and it is baby's timidity toward strangers, as much as his fear of loud noises, which now sends him into a storm."

Since his loud sounds will not help him, but give him some noise-making toys with which to amuse himself.

Panorama of Color At Fall Fashion Show

Bel English Styles Shown
By Quota Club at Macdonald

Panorama of color characterized the fall fashions featured at the Quota Club of Edmonton autumn show Wednesday evening in the Macdonald hotel. Styles were from the Bel English shop.

Pageant of beautifully blended clothes was divided into five separate tableaux. Suits and coats were modelled, afternoon dresses, cocktail dresses, lingerie and formal wear.

Setting the tone of the show was Mrs. E. Stephenson, modelling a three-piece wool suit in Hunter green, Persian lamb trimmer the collar and yoke of the swagging coat and coat was featured at the neckline of the dressmaker suit. Something new was the pleated back interest of the jacket, the button trimmed sleeves of the coat.

Another eye-catching three-piece ensemble comprised a flared plaid coat styled with roomy pockets worn with an impeccably tailored brown suit.

Winning much admiration was a blue wool jersey afternoon dress modelled by Mrs. Dalton Eiton. Styled on classic lines the dress featured a deep collar, belt and a slight swing to the skirt.

Pineapple Dishes

Versatile, Delicious

Salads, Desserts Enhanced
By This Luscious Fruit

Let's talk about pineapple — a luscious year-round favorite.

Bulk of canned pineapple comes from Hawaii where both climate and soil conditions are favorable to extensive growth of this fruit.

In the canneries, all work is done by machinery and the fruit appears in our markets canned in uniform slices, cubed, cut in spear lengths, crushed or in juice form.

Pineapple juice or cubes are available in the morning cereal.

Possibilities for recipes made with pineapple range from appetizers, through salads, to desserts.

One simple salad favorite is cottage cheese mixed with salad dressing and topped with pineapple rings. Garnish with leaves of lettuce—very appetizing.

In today's hand, for example, there is the question of re-entry. Re-entry is the key to many tricks. It is around this principle that many other lessons in bridge are built.

Second Control Well Completed

By Cecil Jackson

The south directionally drilled hole at Atlantic No. 3 lost mud while being deepened last night and is presumed to have connected with the original hole. The hole was deepened in the green shale after setting cased last weekend. Difficulties experienced in drilling the hole left the men in charge a bit uncertain about where the bottom of the well was with respect to the original. If the hole has connected it is a perfect completion for an extremely complex undertaking.

With both the directional wells drilled to completion depths another step in the prolonged project of abandoning an uncontrolled producer has been completed. The next move has not yet been announced.

Water is still being pumped into the well set at around 20000 barrels a day to keep the well under control. It is expected that the water will continue until an attempt is made to get heavier material in through the south well.

IMPERIAL ADS ACREAGE

Reports that Imperial Oil has taken 25,000 acres of oil lands stretching over a wide area northeast of Havelock gives an idea of the magnitude of the project. Another 100,000 acres have been taken in an area extending east of Edmonton. Both these areas are in the vicinity of the lease on which Amerasia Corporation is doing extensive test drilling to obtain geological information. Imperial is continuing its core at Havelock and at last report was over 2,000 feet below the surface. The area which the company is now known to exceed 70 feet in

Warns Against High Inventories

WINDSOR, Ont. Sept. 16.—(CP)—George H. Bell, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, issued a warning today to Canadian businessmen which are carrying high inventories.

"Our optimism must be tempered with a realistic view of conditions, including marketing conditions, and other material problems of the business is to take full advantage of the opportunities available in a depressed world trade," he said in his address.

"I think it would not be out of place to mention the danger of carrying high inventories because there are already signs here and there that the business is beginning to show signs of recovery. It is particularly true in the case of inventories which are high in some lines and consequently vulnerable to price reductions."

Livestock

EDMONTON, Sept. 16.—Total receipts at the market today were 47,747 head, as follows:

Cattle: 1,102, calves 109, 477 sheep, 286.

A recent test of the D1 zone at Leduc is around 35 feet thick and has jointly financed an extensive geological test drilling to obtain geological information.

Oats and Barley Firm With Shipper Buying

WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—(CP)—Oats and barley futures today showed a firm trend on shipper buying and occasional demand from American exporters in closing trade on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Hedging pressure was on a slightly heavier scale.

Chicago Cash Corn Skids

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Most grain futures held steady on the board of Trade today despite a break in a few lines.

Wheat, oats and new crop corn held small fractional gains most of the session. Wheat and oats were aided by government purchases of their grains here Wednesday.

Some buying in new crop corn was held in the belief that prices are too far under the 1942 government loan.

The cash market, a sale of No. 2 yellow was made at $1.86 1/2, late in the day. The same grade Wednesday ranged from $1.85 to $1.90.

September delivery wheat most of the market's interest. It jumped about a cent in a wild manner, being strong at one moment and weak at another. Open interest at the start of trading totaled 127,000 bushels.

Wheat closed 1/2 cent, 1/2 to 2 1/2 higher, September 22 1/2 to 2 1/2. Corn was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, September 13 1/2 to 13 1/2.

Oats were 3/4 to 1/2 higher, December 13 1/2 to 13 1/2.

Hog Production Shows Big Drop

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—(CP)—The once bumper Canadian hog crop is taking a back seat in the country's farming operations today. The Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday that Canadian farmers are producing fewer hogs than the number on Canadian farms at June 1. This year was only 446,000, against 542,200 last year and 548,000 during the peak wartime year of 1942. The hog population dropped in all the main provinces.

Leading to the decline, the fall crop last year was 191,000, compared with 210,000 in 1941. The fall crop last year was 191,000, compared with 210,000 in 1941.
